FREEZING HIM OUT.—Last night the steam was cut off from the Georgia National Bank by some one with a view of freezing out Captain G. W. Anderson, the officer in charge of the assets. He would'nt "freeze out" worth a cent, however.

ATTENTION, MECHANIC FIRE COMPANY, No. 2.—You are hereby ordered to be at your Hall this (Wednesday) evening, at 7½ o'clock. A full attendance is desired, as there is business of importance to transact.

By order of the President.

C. B. CRENSHAW, Secretary.

ANOTHER ARREST.—Yesterday A. J. Orme was arrested under a warrant issued by Justice Butt at the instance of F. F. Blodgett, charging him with defrauding the State out of $115. Mr. Orme waived an examination and gave bond in the sum of $2,000 for his appearance to answer any charge. The matter had been investigated by Solicitor General Glenn, and the investigating committee, and they were satisfied of Mr. Orme's innocence. From a long acquaintance with Mr. Orme we are satisfied that he will be vindicated at the trial.

Westward the Star of Empire.

The changes that have been made since 1840 in the distribution of political power are striking in the extreme. Thus:

States.	Electoral votes in 1872.	1840.
Illinois	21	5
Missouri	15	4
Wisconsin	10	none
Iowa	[illegible]	none
Michigan	[illegible]	[illegible]
Indiana	[illegible]	[illegible]
Minnesota	[illegible]	none
Ohio	[illegible]	21
	111	43

There are eight Western States whose Presidential votes have increased from 43 to 111. Now look at some of the Eastern States:

States.	Electoral votes in 1872.	1840.
New York	35	42
Maine	7	10
New Hampshire	5	7
Vermont	5	7
Connecticut	6	8
Virginia and West Virginia	16	23
Pennsylvania	29	30
Massachusetts	13	14
	112	141

Here are nine Eastern States whose representation has been reduced from 141 to 112. Thirty years ago they had a majority, lacking one, of one hundred votes; they now have a majority of but one vote. Westward the star of empire takes its way.—Union and American.

A Letter from the Great Western Canal Survey.

ATLANTIC AND GREAT WESTERN CANAL SURVEY, IN CAMP ON YELLOW RIVER, NEAR LAWRENCEVILLE, GA., February 5, 1872.

Editors Constitution: We think it one of our duties, as friends of the great project in which we are embarked, to inform you from time to time of our whereabouts and the sympathy we find with the population of that part of the country through which we have been passing. In doing so, we are able to present the best proof of the estimation in which the enterprise is held by the enlightened portion of the people, for we are not so selfish as to take the many courtesies we receive as mere personal compliment—pleasant and flattering as they may be to us personally. On the contrary, we esteem them mainly as an indication of the deep interest they have for the success of one of the grandest enterprises of the age, and as such we report them to you.

Having crossed successfully the Chattahoochee plateau and pushed forward the survey to Craig's mill on Yellow river at the crossing of the Lawrenceville and Covington road, where we were met by gentlemen from Lawrenceville, and invited to partake of a supper with them, to be given on a convenient evening. According to this kind invitation, we left our present camp on the evening of the [illegible], and after a two hours trip through a fertile section of country, we arrived in town, stopping at the Globe Hotel. The fresh, or rather cold weather we had at the time, made us doubly sensible of the comfort of the warm room which received us. After a short stay at the hotel, we were welcomed and escorted by the representative gentlemen of the town to the residence of Dr. Russell, where a table was set for the occasion. Upon this we found the renowned turkey and all the delicacies the country afforded. We were also delighted with the good taste shown in the arrangement. Having done justice to the inner man, we retired to the parlors, where we were introduced to the gentlemen present. This, however, proved to be only an introduction to other pleasures that awaited us; for whilst we were discussing the topics of the day or other subjects of general interest, one by one, or in pairs, the beauties of the town, accompanied by gallant escorts, joined our company and soon formed a bouquet that would arouse the jealousy of greater cities. As a matter of course, the younger members of our corps, and a number of young gentlemen who had made their appearance too in the meanwhile, soon entered into the inspiring influences of the "Quadrille," which was kept up with but little intermission until midnight. The older gentlemen present, being thus separated from the rest of the company, acted for a little while as lookers on of the lively spectacle and then by mutual consent organized a social circle of their own, where the merits of the Great Canal subject was discussed as well as the accompaniments usual on such occasions. Dr. A. J. Shaffer, acting President of the Assembly, opened the discussion with some very appropriate remarks in commendation of the enterprise and complimentary to the engineers and proprietors of it.

Major McCalla, our engineer in charge of survey, responded giving a condensed account of our work and returning the thanks of our corps for the very hearty welcome we had found. Colonel Peeples, editor of the Gwinnett Herald, very ably and eloquently presented the importance of a canal connecting the Atlantic ocean with the "Far West," in its many different bearings. That excellent, dignified and courteous gentleman, Major Winn, upon the ground of being the senior member of the party, very appropriately closed the discussion with one of the most tender and feeling little addresses we ever heard, and bidding us a hearty God-speed in our undertaking; after which the meeting proper was adjourned only to give room to another reunion, which in the shape of toasts and witty remarks kept up among all the best of spirits.

At a late hour the company separated, fully convinced that every one present had enjoyed themselves to the heart's content. We, of the engineer corps, however, shall never forget, and always think ourselves under obligations, for the very happy hours we spent in company with the good citizens of Lawrenceville. May they succeed in their endeavors, and may the canal and the projected railroad become a living reality, and a source of profit and convenience to them, is the wish of every one of us who partook of their unostentatious but generous hospitality.

THE ENGINEER CORPS of the Atlantic and Great Western Canal, Georgia Division.

For the Ladies.

[CONDENSED FOR THE CONSTITUTION.]

Naomi, the daughter of Enoch, was 580 years old when she married. While there is life there is hope.

It was probably a discarded one who said: "Any fool can make a woman talk, but it's hard to make one listen."

The reason why so few marriages are happy is because young ladies spend their time in making nets, not in making cages.

It is avowed of Janauschek that she has never smiled since some tragical love affair, in which she was in real life an actor.

A New Orleans exchange says that a young widow in that city, who writes well, "is training for an editor." Who is the editor she is training for?

A Cleveland youth, who gave his girl a bottle of "I love you," perfume, has paid $300 to prove that he didn't mean anything by it.

To be thine is the last fashionable feminine ambition. Scrawny necks are all the rage. Few young ladies are [illegible] thus blessed, paint their rounded shoulders with seria wrinkles.

Humorous.

A bad egg is not a choice egg; but it is hard to beat.

The mind of [illegible] is said to be like an eating-house, because it's a [illegible].

Bill—Good morning, Jack. Got anything new?"

Jack—Yes. Got the new ralgia terribly.

"You'll grow up ugly if you make faces," said a widow lady to her little niece. "Did you make faces when you was a little girl, Aunty."

I would say to all young men, marry your second wife first, and keep out of debt by all means, even if you have to borrow the money to do it.—Mark Twain.

Relative beauty—A pretty cousin.

Last words of the criminal—"Forget me, knot."

A woman's pride is a sailor's guide—The needle.

SIMMONS'

REGULATOR!

LIVER DISEASE and indigestion prevail to a greater extent than probably any other malady, and relief is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Indigestion, or want of action in the Liver, causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pains in the Shoulders, Cough, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, palpitation of the heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered for these afflictions. It acts mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantity that it may be taken. It has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its virtues, viz:

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia.

Bishop Pierce, of Georgia.

Jno. Gill Shorter, ex-Governor of Alabama.

Gen. John B. Gordon.

Morning Edition.

ATLANTA:

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1872.

Subscribe to The Constitution.

A full report of the decisions of the Supreme Court is furnished to The Constitution exclusively, by the reporter of the Court.

Col. W. O. Lofton states in a card to the Macon Telegraph that he has never applied nor authorized any one to apply for a relief of his disabilities.

England is level on the woman rights question. When she gives a petticoat male rights she gives her male disabilities. For instance, a fellow named Will having obtained a divorce from his wife, the court gave him $1,500 a year alimony.

The Public Laws.

The Constitution office is prepared to supply orders for the Public Laws of Georgia, passed at the November session, with an appendix containing Court Calendar, the Government of Georgia, etc. Price per pamphlet, $1. Apply at the business office.

Schurz.

This German is a very strong speaker. He will compare favorably with any man in Congress. He puts his points well. His late speech on amnesty was a powerful one. He told the Radicals the following deep and philosophical truth:

"Your good sense as well as your heart must tell you that when this is truly a people of citizens equal in their political rights, it will then be easier to make it also a people of brothers."

Exciting Times.

We have fallen upon lively times. The local news is of thrilling interest. Attachments, arrests, are the order of the day. Our legislative committees are "moving" things. Then, too, England is bristling up, and talks at Uncle Sam in lofty and indignant style. In fact, she tells him he is "absurd."

Our evening edition is bought in great numbers in consequence. And we are glad of this on account of the many newsboys who thus make a little hard-earned money to drive want from the door of needy families. We furnish them the papers at cost, allowing them all the profit. We trust that those who can will help the little newsboys.

Huge.

Our brother editor, Col. Victoria Woodhull, in her last weekly, has a huge thing in the shape of the "Constitution of the United States of the World." She contemplates starting a Universal Republic. The Constitution is something after the fashion of the Federal Constitution, only much more so, to a prodigious extent.

It has some unique features. She divides the United States into five Congressional Districts of States. Georgia is in the Fourth, composed of Michigan, Louisiana, Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Tennessee, and New Jersey.

All acts of Congress shall be ratified by the people.

Congress has power to establish a national money system, have a pauper bureau, adopt a national education system, inaugurate prison discipline, make land common property, tax the rich more than the poor, run a national railway system, start a Public Market plan to abolish hucksters, and other remarkable matters.

Many serious restrictions are to be imposed on business. Incorporated companies can only make four per cent., and must give all the rest to the General Government.

Everybody over eighteen years old can vote. No representative shall vote against the will of his constituents.

The whole world is expected to finally ramble into this universal Republic.

The New Amendments.

We find the following action to have been taken in the House of Representatives, on Monday, in reference to the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments. It looks farcical to be thus resolving about the Constitution. These resolutions are so much waste paper.

Mr. Peters moved to suspend the rules and adopt the resolution declaring that the highest patriotism and most enlightened policy demand of all political parties and of all citizens and acquiescence in the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution, and such reasonable legislation of Congress as may be necessary to make them in their letter and spirit the most effectual. Agreed to by 130 to 51.

Mr. Brooks, of New York, moved to suspend the rules and adopt a resolution recognizing the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments as valid parts of the Constitution. Agreed to—108 to 28.

Mr. Stevenson moved to suspend the rules and adopt a resolution recognizing as valid and binding all existing laws passed by Congress for the enforcement of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution, and for the protection of citizens in their rights under the Constitution as amended.

Mr. Randall—Those laws are unconstitutional.

Mr. Eldridge—I think you had better take those cases to the Supreme Court.

Without taking a vote on the resolution the House adjourned.

Gratz Brown.

Brown made a telling speech to the reform Republican convention in Missouri. We have not space in the present crowded condition of our columns to give more than a paragraph or two. This seems to have told well, alluding to Grant's attempted ostracism of all who dared to differ from him in the party:

Have we not seen the leading representative of one great element of our population, and ... of a great element of Republican strength—I allude to our German fellow citizens, who have but a single representative in the ... United States—have we not ... [illegible] ... much responsibility had weighty matters to ... words "not in," [cheers] while Chandler, Cameron, Sherman, Morton and Drake were flitting in and out the side doors like scene shifters in a theater? [Cheers.]

The following ... absolutely ... It turns the tables ... to establish the fact of great disorder ... to secure their own power:

The Interesting Documents in State Matters.

[illegible] ... Judge Linton Stephens ... The bank gave bond in $... to indemnify the bank. Gov. Smith and Treasurer Angier signed it.

The case has excited wide and intense public interest. The bank has over a hundred private depositors, whose deposits amount to $30,000. These deposits are among the assets of the bank. Somewhere near $20,000 cash, we believe, has been found among the assets. The inventory is not complete yet.

We give the letters that passed between the bank and Ex-Governor Bullock.

THE LETTER FROM THE BANK.

[Copy.]

Georgia National Bank,
Atlanta, Ga., October 21st, 1871.

Hon. R. B. Bullock:

Dear Sir—Acting under instructions for our Board of Directors, I have this day charged to your "special account" the sum of $[illegible], as follows, viz: [illegible]

Leaving balance at your credit in "special account" to your order ... $34,[illegible]

The Bank has treated and regarded the three accounts, your special, your current and H. I. Kimball & Co. current, as being one in fact.

Yours, very truly,
E. L. Jones.

BULLOCK'S REPLY.

New York, November 11, 1871.

E. L. Jones, Esq., Cashier:

Sir—I have but just now come into possession of your letter of the 21st of October, and I regret the delay that has occurred in receiving it because of the very remarkable character of its contents. In fact, I am not ready to believe that such a letter could be the result of full deliberation on the part either of yourself or the Board of Directors of your bank. My reasons for this doubt are the entire absence ... of any suggestions whereby either yourself or any member of the Board of your bank could assume that authority was ever given ... for treating and regarding the account of H. I. Kimball & Co., my personal account, and the account of Schaub & Lawton, "as being one in fact" with the account of the State which you refer to as my "special account," together with your own admission and testimony to the fact that my personal account and transactions with the bank did not and could not have any connection whatever with the [illegible]

[illegible] ... have been signed by me as Governor, and payable to the order of the Treasurer, or, as in one or two cases, to the order of members of committees of the General Assembly, [illegible]

In addition, it is a fact known to you that all transactions on the State account have been ... by the bank in the bank book in charge of Mr. Scott, the Executive warrant clerk. And that my personal transactions have been similarly recorded in my personal bank book by your bank. ... bank showing my personal checks and credits, written up and balanced ... to my favor on the 15th of April, 1871. Any balance that may have properly accrued against me since that date, I alone am responsible for. The bank books showing the State's account as entered by your bank is in the hands of Mr. Scott in the Executive Department, and will, I have no doubt, be equally as clear in establishing that my personal account and the State account did have and could have no [illegible].

Upon the subject of H. I. Kimball & Co.'s account with your bank, I have no specific knowledge, and I cannot imagine any pretext that would authorize or justify yourself or your Directors in treating or regarding the account of that concern and the special "as being one in fact."

The absurdity of your purpose in charging to the (State) balances claimed to be due by myself personally or by H. I. Kimball & Co., seems to culminate in charging the (State) with a protested note of Schaub & Lawton, because it had my personal indorsement. This seems too apparent to need calling your attention to it, for I am sure you are too well posted in the responsible duties of your position not to know that there is no legal claim against me by custom, liable immediately after protest, even until the ability of the principals to the paper has been exhausted.

That my personal liability is only contingent, you are, of course, aware.

Having said this much, I will have done ... I think, to invite that further consideration by yourself and your board, which will insure a correction of any action that either you or they may have taken in furtherance of the unwarrantable assumption that the personal account of myself, the account of H. I. Kimball & Co., or the protested notes of Schaub & Lawton, on property chargeable against the balance due by your bank to the State of Georgia.

Very respectfully,
R. B. Bullock.

Agricultural Report for January.

In fourteen States including the only two Southern States of Virginia and South Carolina, there is an increase per acre in corn production, running from 42 bushels an acre, in Iowa to 10 in Carolina, the average being about 33.

The yield per acre is greater than last year. The lowest average was 5 bushels in Georgia, Carolina and Tennessee.

Prices for corn were higher in January, 1871, than 1872.

The prices of corn in Georgia were [illegible] in 1867; [illegible] 91 in 1869; [illegible] in 1870; [illegible] cents in 1871; and 93 cents in 1872.

The general price of corn was highest in 1868, and next in 1870. The concurrence of two large crops in 1870 and 1871 depressed the price.

In Georgia the prices of wheat were $2 72 in 1867; $2 35 in 1868; $2 [illegible] in 1869; $1 60 in 1870; $1 47 in 1871; $1 66 in 1872.

The general price was highest in 1867, and lowest in 1870, after the great crop of 1869. Wheat seems now to be advancing.

The hay crop of 1871 was short, and prices are higher than for several years.

In Georgia, the hay price per ton has been: $24 [illegible] in 1867; $21 [illegible] in 1868; $21 [illegible] 1869; $21 [illegible] in 1870; $20 [illegible] in 1871; $28 06 in 1872.

In Georgia, the following was the average yield per acre, and average price January 1st, 1872, of the different crops: Corn, 10.9 bushels, at 93 cents; wheat, 5 bushels, worth $1 66; rye, 7.3 bushels, worth $1 36; oats, 10.7 bushels, [illegible] barley, 14[illegible] bushels, worth $1 77; potatoes, 26 bushels, worth [illegible]. The following relates to winter wheat in Georgia: [illegible]

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

A ... Glimpse at Georgia Congressmen and Georgia Matters.

Washington, January —, 1872.

The national legislature having now fairly got down to business, it may not be amiss to take a peep from the reporter's gallery at the men to whom the State of Georgia has intrusted her interests. The Senate takes precedence, of course. Here we see Mr. Hill, a sturdy looking legislator, with a big head, surrounded with a heavy crop of coarse and bristling gray hair. He is labored and prosy in speech, and his intellectual weight is evidently considerably less than his fleshy avoirdupois. He keeps a sharp eye to the interests of his friends and followers; but I think that Georgia will be quite willing to let him retire to private life when his present term expires.

Mr. Hill's colleague is a new man here—a man whom very few persons in Washington ever heard of until the Georgia Legislature honored him with a seat in the United States Senate. I do not say this disparagingly; and it is safe to add that there are more good men, more honest men, and more able men out than in position. God help us all if this were not so. Mr. Norwood is small, almost puny in stature, with a sallow face and more the air of a student than a speaker. His voice has not yet been heard, but his record assures us that he will prove faithful to the trusts reposed in him; and let us not forget that we might have had the infamous Blodgett in his place.

Now let us step over to the House. Here we find in the front row, on the Speaker's right, General Dudley M. DuBose, a tall, handsome fellow, young, enthusiastic, and destined to work his way upward. He pays strict attention to his legislative duties, devotes much time studying how to perform them best, and while caring for the interests of his constituents does not forget that he is a son of Georgia, and that his native State has claims upon him.

In the next row behind Gen. DuBose is the Hon. A. ... McIntyre, who represents the Savannah district. He is a lawyer, with a large practice, and is a cool, clear-headed man. He is always at his post, and has set himself to work to add to his knowledge of parliamentary rules and usages, that he may be able to cope with his political opponents, and advance the interests of his State and district.

Gen. P. M. B. Young sits on the right of Mr. McIntyre. He is too well known in Atlanta to need commendation or personal description. There is no discount of his Democracy, of course. It is whispered about that he is just now on matrimonial thought intent, and that the lady in question is a daughter of Hon. Robt. Ould, of Richmond, Virginia. If report speak truly, ... Representative is to change ...

Mr. Price is a stoutish looking man. When the drawing for seats took place, he did not join the little colony of Georgia Democrats on the Speaker's right, but took up a central position on our side of the House.

Tom Speer is one of the most prominent men in Congress—when he stands up. When he unfolds his six feet, and I don't know how many inches, and bawls out, "Mis-t-ah Speak-ah, I move the House do now adjourn," every body laughs. ... will never be a success as a humorist. He is too monotonous. After a time people will get accustomed to his personal appearance and his motion to adjourn and then nobody will laugh any more, and Speer will pass into oblivion. I am sorry for Speer, for I think he means well. I only hope he won't pair with a Democrat again when he intends to vote on our side.

Since Whitely failed to get into the Senate, but obtained a seat in the House to which he was not elected, he has rather dropped out of notice. He is altogether eclipsed by Speer as a legislator. As for Bigby, he must be in perpetual eclipse, for I never see and seldom hear of him. He is about, though, and draws his pay with commendable regularity. Bigby can always be relied on in this respect, and it affords me much pleasure to bestow upon him this commendation.

BILLS RELATING TO GEORGIA.

Under the call of States to-day Mr. McIntyre introduced the following bills and resolutions:

1. A resolution amending the Constitution so that the Supreme Court of the United States may have original and appellate jurisdiction in cases involving or affecting the constitutionality of any Federal laws, so as to determine the constitutionality of the same. The resolution further provides that on request of any State, corporation or person suggesting the unconstitutionality of any law, the Court shall consider the same and determine it within six months.

This resolution aims at the Ku-Klux laws and the McCardle case.

2. A joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay claims for cotton and other property taken by the Government after June, 1865.

This simply proposes to carry into effect an existing decision.

3. A bill to appropriate $500,000 for the Georgia Infirmary at Savannah.

4. A bill to relieve the political disabilities of Samuel B. Spencer, of Atlanta. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Price introduced a bill to relieve the disabilities of certain citizens of Georgia, and one relating to the disposition of condemned cannon at Andersonville.

THE SITUATION IN GEORGIA.

Our friends here are delighted that Georgia should have tided so smoothly over pending difficulties, and have escaped martial law. Gen. DuBose, who remained in Washington during the recess, kept a sharp eye on movements here, and has breathed more freely since Conley gracefully retired from the gubernatorial chair.

THE GEORGIA LOBBY

is uncommonly small this season. It consists at present of "Junck" Seeley, of Savannah, who is figuring away at that nigger poll tax business.

Correspondence.

Editors Constitution: I send you a letter received this morning from one of the most prominent and reliable ... which I request you to publish. ... with the writer, that the sum of $5,000 is not sufficient to enable the representative of a very important class of our people to accomplish what he otherwise could do with larger means, and I feel no hesitation in stating that I will be able to raise two thousand dollars in upper Georgia from the success I have already met with. I have now about fifty names pledged to contribute twenty dollars each, and these were obtained with two day's effort.

I desire the public to understand that this is strictly a business transaction. We expect every one who contributes his twenty dollars to receive a quid pro quo, and the State at large to be benefitted.

Very respectfully,
R. A. Alston.

Savannah, Ga., January 31, 1872.

Col. R. A. Alston, Hon. John H. James and others, Atlanta:

Dear Sirs—I have, with ... seen your correspondence inviting the Rev. C. W. Howard to visit Europe in order to induce foreign capitalists and settlers to invest in Georgia, and proposing to raise $5,000 00 to defray his expenses.

It will give me much satisfaction to assist in an undertaking which promises valuable results to our State, [illegible]

Phil. Sheridan is here.

The Naval Committee has agreed to report a bill materially increasing the belligerent strength of the navy.

The Senate pension bill appropriating $30,600,000 passed.

Chandler offered a resolution inquiring whether any United States Senator had received a lawyer's fee from the Treasury Department. Adopted.

Amnesty ...

Carpenter's substitute for Sumner's amendment to the Supplemental Civil Rights Bill was rejected by a vote of 17 to 38.

Sherman moved to strike out the seventh section of Sumner's amendment, which would repeal or annul all laws, whether State or National, which discriminate ... color by the use of the word white.

After some discussion, Mr. Sumner, at the request of the friends of the bill, consented that the section should be struck out.

Mr. Harlen objected to striking out the section.

The Senate adjourned without a vote.

The House voted to-day on the amendments to the Educational bill. Two important amendments were adopted. One a motion of Goodrich, of New York, to distribute the fund on the basis of illiteracy. The other a motion of Hereford, of West Virginia, to the effect that the free schools contemplated in the bill need not necessarily be mixed schools. ... yeas 114; nays 80.

The Republicans, in order to get rid of the last amendment, then turned in favor of one of the substitutes, which ... and the question was at that stage when the House adjourned. The final vote will be taken to-morrow.

NEW YORK.

New York, February 7.—The British brig Ida encountered a serious gale during which the Mate was washed overboard and the Captain and one man seriously injured.

The subject of the Washington treaty was again discussed in the House of Commons to-day. Quite an excited discussion ensued, during which Ralph Osborne said that the Alabama question was one of the most momentous England had been called to pass upon within a century. He compared the astute lawyers of the American Commission with Meade, who represented England, and said that the latter had been completely outwitted. If, said he, lawyers had planned the English case ... the payment of £6,000,000. The American Commissioners had served their country well and achieved a triumph.

Atway, formerly Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, blamed the government for all the trouble which had been wrought. He thought, however, the American government would recede from its extreme demands, but in case it did not, England, having admitted the principle of indirect claims, must be prepared to meet the enormous demands of the United States.

Gladstone and several other members defended the action of the Commissioners and of the government, and said they hoped the American claim for indirect damages would be withdrawn.

SPAIN.

Madrid, February 7.—Two thousand troops asked for by Captain General Valmaseda have sailed for Cuba.

A CARD TO THE TRADE!!
REDWINE & FOX.
Having enlarged our store by connecting the adjoining room to it, we are prepared to offer to the trade unsurpassed facilities in the selection of goods in our line.
OUR STOCK OF DRUGS, AS ALSO OF Window Glass, White Leads, Oils, etc., has been increased by selections from the best manufacturers, so that we are able not only to sell choice goods but to give the lowest market prices.
We call special attention to our KEROSENE OIL, (150 degrees fire test), which cannot be surpassed for brilliancy of light, and is, at the same time, entirely safe from explosion.
Our Prescription Department
Is being remodeled, and we are prepared to fill Prescriptions, of the purest Chemicals, with neatness and dispatch. This department is in charge of Mr. Palmer and Dr. A. C. FOX,
Late of Virginia. The former is well and favorably known to our citizens. The latter is a gentleman of long experience in the business and a graduate of Medicine and Pharmacy.
A careful examination of our stock and prices is respectfully solicited.

Apples. Stokes & Bro. have received a [illegible] of choice Northern apples.

Price of "Heart Hungry," a new novel, sent by mail post-paid $1 75. Address, Phillips & Crew.

[illegible] Direct.—L. B. Langford, yesterday, received a car load of Charter Oak Cooking Stoves direct from St. Louis.

Fun Ahead!—We learn that the State Road Investigating Committee have ordered one hundred blank warrants for immediate use.

No Performance.—Owing to the inclement weather last night the Swiss Bell Ringers gave no performance at DeGive's.

German Class.—The German Class of [illegible] will meet for the purpose of organizing at the Young Men's Library at 8 o'clock to-night.

[illegible]—We learn that the contract for [illegible] the Court House at [illegible], has been awarded to Mr. [illegible], of Dalton.

G. H. Holliday & Co.—Messrs. G. H. Holliday & Co., on Mitchell street, are selling their entire stock of Dress Goods at cost. Ladies will find it to their advantage to give them a call.

Lucy C. died to-day,
We shall never see her more;
She laid two eggs a day,
On Sundays she laid four.

Reward for Joseph Fry.—His Excellency Gov. J. M. Smith offers a reward of $500 for the apprehension of Joseph Fry who escaped jail on the 6th.

P. E. McDaniel & Co. Warehouse.—Remember this valuable property will be offered for sale this morning by Wallace & Fowler, at eleven o'clock.

Fine Drawing.—Messrs. Parkins & Allen have in their office a fine drawing, in colors, of the new residence of Mayor James. It is a fine work of art.

First Class Board.—Young men, and ladies and gentlemen, wishing first class board can be accommodated at Mrs. L. B. Davis's, corner of Forsyth and Peachtree streets. Her rooms are furnished in elegant style, and the accommodations are first class.

Essays.—At the meeting of the Decatur Agricultural Club, on Tuesday, the following gentlemen were appointed to prepare essays on the subjects named: Dr. Collier, Cotton; Colonel J. C. New, Corn; J. W. Kirkpatrick, W. J. Houston, Potatoes; John Bryce, Grasses.

Postponed.—In consequence of the inclement weather, the grand masquerade and fancy dress ball, announced to come off last night at new [illegible] Hall, was postponed until to-night. Tickets sold good.

Private Boarding.—Mrs J Archer, on Mitchell street, next door below Concordia Hall, has large, cozy rooms, newly and elegantly furnished, and has a table supplied with the best the market affords. Her terms are moderate.

A Dead Beat.—A man calling himself W. L. Smith, agent of the Pittsburg Cable Lightning Rod Company of Memphis, is traveling through the country. We learn that there never was a branch office of the company in Memphis. The public should be on their guard, as he is a "dead beat."

Loss and Gain.—Eufaula has lost one of her beauties, who, having sojourned a few days at Forsyth, left for Atlanta yesterday. We advise the "fellows" on that way to be on their guard.—Monroe Advertiser.

We welcome her with open arms.

Thomas' Concert.—Theodore Thomas gives his first concert at DeGive's to-night. The programme for to-night embraces: Adagio from Beethoven's Prometheus, with Harp, Violoncello, Flute, Clarionet, and Bassoon Obligato by Hemann, Rose, Wer er Wendelschaefer, and Eltz; Polonaise Brillante, Miss Marie Krebs and Orchestra: and other selections of popular music.

To the Pastors of the Churches in Atlanta.—The undersigned was requested by a late meeting of citizens interested in the establishment of a City Hospital, to call a meeting of the pastors of the various churches to take into consideration a plan for the hospital, and to prepare an appeal to the people of the city. The pastors will please meet at Dr. [illegible] office, over Phillips & Crew's book store, this (Thursday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

W. P. Harrison, Chairman.

Stephens & Flynn.—We take pleasure in calling attention to the advertisement in another column of that live and popular firm, Stephens & Flynn. Their business [illegible] throughout this and adjoining States, where they are recognized as energetic, prompt and reliable. They are fully alive to the interests of their patrons, because they keep posted on the markets. If you wish to purchase grain, produce, etc., call on them and get supplies as cheap as anywhere else. If you have produce of any kind to sell, consign it to them and you will get the highest market price for it, and prompt returns.

An Old Time Hero!—We saw the other day the portrait of Jennings Hulsey, of DeKalb county, who died at the age of 85 years. He was born in Virginia, and at the age of 17 entered the Continental army, and continued in active service during that protracted struggle. At the time of his death he was the largest land owner and the oldest man in DeKalb county. He was a Democrat, and never voted any other ticket. The portrait was taken about five years before his death. It escaped the mishaps of the late war, and is now being framed by his grandson, Col. W. H. Hulsey.

The oldest man now in DeKalb county, is [illegible], father of [illegible] Sheriff, A. M. Perkerson of this county. He is nearly one hundred years of age.

Death of Mrs. P. Tweeatt.—The community was painfully shocked Sunday night to hear that the remains of this lady were at hand for interment. She died Sunday morning, at Atlanta, leaving three lovely children and a stricken husband. The funeral services were attended by a large concourse of mourning friends. It seldom happens to one to be so greatly endeared to so many as was this warm-hearted, pure Christian lady. Her self-abnegation and genial sympathetic nature drew close about her the affections of this people, among whom she lived so long. In common with our townsmen, we extend our earnest condolence to the stricken family.

We heartily indorse all that our esteemed contemporary of the Milledgeville Recorder says of Mrs. Tweeatt. She was the sister of Col. J. Bulow Campbell of this city.

The Young Men's Party.—The young men of Atlanta gave a "dance complimentary" at James' Hall on Tuesday night to the young ladies of Atlanta and West End.

The attendance was large. The young ladies of Atlanta and West End with superb toilets were out;

"Better joyous without measure,
[illegible] pleasure, wounding blisses,
They no doubt their eyes in love,
And their lips can warm with kisses."

Dancing was kept up until midnight, and all, on retiring, voted it the party of the season.

How many young men had the question popped to them the future will only determine. As some of them have not made their appearance on the streets since, we opine the day has been fixed.

Atlantic Coast Line.—We call special attention to the advertisement of the Atlantic Coast Line freight route. This is an entirely new line of independent connections from Tide-water at Wilmington, N. C., and Portsmouth, Va., and of uniform gauge from Wilmington, transporting Freight, without transfer or detention, to and from all interior points.

Atlantic Phosphate.

This Fertilizer, manufactured by the Atlantic Phosphate Company, under the direction of their Chemist, Dr. St. Julien Ravenel, is now offered to the Planting Community at the very reduced price of $40 per ton Cash, or [illegible].

This Fertilizer has been very extensively used in this State, and has given entire satisfaction; some of the most practical planters admitting it to be equal to Peruvian Guano, pound for pound.

All sales made now will be considered as cash on the 1st of March, 1872, and to those buying on time the sale will be considered as due on 1st November, 1872.

By this arrangement planters will be enabled, without extra cost, to haul their manure at a time when their wagons and mules are idle.

Pamphlets containing the certificates of those who have used the Atlantic Phosphate will be furnished on application to the Agents.

[illegible] modes of investing capital and utilizing labor.

In a market grape the two most valuable characteristics should be to [illegible] to the bunch and keep well. The Concord is well known to be a poor keeper, and grape growers are looking around for something more serviceable in the [illegible] growth and fruiting it [illegible] profitable kind we have. The [illegible] rable as a market variety, ripens with the Concord, has a heavy crop of [illegible] not liable to crack, keeps better than the Concord, hangs well to the bunch, and is much better than the Hartford. With us we find it quite as profitable as the Concord. The Isabella is the most perfect shipping black grape we have, very productive, early, and bunch the very perfection of symmetry and compactness. The [illegible] will, we believe, become a very good market variety, if for nothing but its flavor, which is the best of all the black varieties, says the Horticulturist.

RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION.—It is difficult to realize, without a good deal of hard thinking, the work done by the Pennsylvania company within a brief period of time. The officers of that mammoth corporation have literally absorbed no less than thirty-four established railroad companies, including some of the strongest in the country. To popularize so grand a scheme, they have [illegible] adopted more liberal rules than those of the corporations which preceded the great mammoths; and with considerably reduced expenses in so many executive departments, this has proved quite practical. Corporations often become odious to the people for the abuse of power, [illegible] its legitimate use. Just as they treat the public fairly, they grow in favor.—New York Express.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.—The Savannah papers are complaining at the manner in which they receive their press dispatches [illegible] telligible most of the time that no sense can be made of them after strenuous efforts. Now, [illegible] but we [illegible] strictly here in [illegible]. The dispatches we receive some times late at night are not as clear as they might be, being so faintly transcribed. The weekly cotton statement is so jumbled up as to tax our patience in unravelling it, even with the aid of comparative tables, and the general cotton reports, unless closely revised, would go out so incorrect as to be unreliable.—Charleston Courier.

RAILROADS CROSSING AT GRADE.—In the late case of Warren vs the New York Central Railroad Company (44 N.Y. [illegible]) it was decided by the Supreme Court of the State that railroads have the same rights at the crossings of highways that citizens have, [illegible] where not restrained by [illegible] lations in cities, they may run at such rate of speed as they may think proper, subject to liability to respond for damages they may cause; that ordinarily they are governed as to speed only by the consideration of prudence, and that the public must take notice of the right of the railroad company to run trains at a high rate of speed.

THE WAY KIT DONE IT.—An [illegible] critic finds fault with Joaquin Miller's poem, "Kit Carson's Ride," because the hero dashes away "on bareback horse" and subsequently "rose in his stirrups." This kind of criticism is the paltry work of an uninformed mind. Those who are familiar with Mr. Carson's habits know that he never carried his stirrups upon his horse. He wore them hanging by a strap over his shoulders, and when he wanted to rise he placed his feet in them and took up his whole weight, [illegible] upon himself, leaving the horse untouched beneath. Any person with ordinary intelligence, will see by the above explanation, that Kit's idea was to relieve his horse at times from his heavy burden.

CRITICISING NEWSPAPERS.—It is a very easy matter to criticise a newspaper; but to publish a live one, so as to interest, amuse, and instruct the public, is no small undertaking. Those in this community who are so prone to find fault with every little item which does not suit their critical and exalted ideas, [illegible] and paper, and publish an organ of their own. Let them try it for three months only, and if it don't give them some new ideas of the newspaper business, then we are no judge of human nature. [illegible] would be taken out of such individuals [illegible] that they would hardly know what was the matter with them, or whether they stood on their heads or feet.—Exchange.

Young ladies from time immemorial have fought against the word "obey" in the Episcopal marriage service. The best way of managing it is by compelling the happy couple to promise to "obey each other." Wonder how it works? It reminds us, says the New York Evening Post, of the rule of the road made by the Superintendent of a Western railroad notorious for collisions: "Hereafter, when two trains meet each other, going in opposite directions, both shall come to a dead stop, and neither shall proceed until the other has passed it."

A worthy Scotch couple, when asked how their son had broken down so early in life, gave the following explanation: "When we begun life together we worked hard and lived upon porridge and such like, gradually adding to our comforts as our means improved, until we were able to dine off a bit of roast meat and sometimes a boilt chickie (chicken), but Jack, our son, he worked backward, and began with the chickie first."

LAGER FATTENING!—There is a German lager-beer seller in New York who has not been outside his place of business for several years. He has grown so enormously stout from beer and indolence that he could not possibly go out through the doorway, and [illegible] in May [illegible] with his friends now is whether to reduce him by draining or to enlarge the door-way.

MARDI GRAS.—(Mardi, Tuesday, gras, fat,) is French, and answers to Shrove Tuesday, the day before Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. It is the last day of the week of carnival observed in Catholic countries, prior to the mortifications to be undergone for the forty days succeeding it—a culmination as it were of that whirl of gaiety and enjoyment crowded into the ten short days of ante-Lenten carnival.

NEWSPAPERS AND GOVERNMENT.—Thomas Jefferson said that he would rather have newspapers without a government, than a government without newspapers. There was something prophetic in the remark, for in the days of Jefferson, newspapers were not what they are to-day. More and more the country and the civilized world is coming to be governed by newspapers.

A lady says engagements are very unsatisfactory sort of affairs, for if you are not very polite and attentive the gentleman thinks you do not care for him, and you are afraid to be polite for fear the engagement might sometime be broken off, when you would be sorry to think you had wasted so much sweetness on some other woman's husband.

A Kentucky court has decided that the salaries of a policeman cannot be attached for debt in the hands of the Mayor as disbursing officer, on the ground that the interest of the creditor must yield to that of the public, which is entitled to a uniform and cheerful discharge of duty by its officials. We think the decision a righteous one.

Eight hundred thousand dollars was the price agreed upon yesterday for the property [illegible] of Broadway and Dey street [illegible] will be the site for a new and magnificent building for the Western Union Telegraph Company.

COUNTERFEIT.—[illegible] forwarded by Southern Express Company to United States Treasurer, Washington, free of charge [illegible] sums of five dollars and upwards, and legal tender notes in sums of fifty dollars and upwards.

[illegible] all croup or [illegible] of the throat be ever so slight.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION.—Permanent relief from this distressing [illegible] accompany this ailment, as also a removal of its cause is found by the use of Dr. Price's [illegible] one of the most valuable [illegible] to the public. It removes [illegible], neuralgia, nervousness, headache, and inability to sleep. Get a bottle from some druggist. You will not be disappointed.

BACHELOR'S HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces [illegible] black or brown, [illegible] soft, beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, New York.

A MELANCHOLY BREAK-DOWN.—There are lively break-downs that make an audience laugh, and there are sad and sorrowful break-downs that make the kind-hearted grieve. To the latter class belongs the enervation of body and mind which is usually called "general debility," or "nervous weakness," and which, when neglected, too often terminates in atrophy and death. A wholesome medicated stimulant is the one thing needed in cases of this description, and science and experience unite in pointing to Plantation Bitters as the true specific. The fact that it combines the properties of an invigorant with those of a regulator and alterative, in exactly the proportions necessary to produce a radical change in the tone of the system, and the action of the digestive and secretive organs, is an unanswerable argument in its favor as a general restorative.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—[illegible] thinking or [illegible] mind [illegible] lassitude, lack of ambition or energy, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, acrid, thick and tenacious mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, death and decay of bones, scabs from ulcers, constant desire to clear nose and throat, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, [illegible], enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, difficulty in speaking plainly, general debility, idiocy and insanity.

All the above symptoms are common to this disease in some of its stages or complications. [illegible] cases annually terminate in consumption [illegible], and end in the grave [illegible] having manifested one-third of the symptoms above mentioned. No disease is more common or less understood by physicians. The proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by druggists; or send sixty cents to R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y., for it.

GUARD YOUR HEALTH AND LIFE.—How inconsistent is human nature. Men carry revolvers to protect themselves against ruffians in well-polished cities, where the precaution is unnecessary, often neglect to fortify their systems against disease in the most unhealthy seasons. Thousands of dyspeptic, and other invalids, are now languishing in sick rooms or feebly and listlessly moving through our streets, who owe their forlorn condition solely to a want of common prudence. Far more inimical than the roughs and rowdies, against whose possible attacks the timid arm themselves, are the morbid elements that pervade the atmosphere at this time of the year, and yet although it is an undenied and undeniable fact that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters afford a more perfect protection against these causes of disease, than any weapon of offense can afford against lawless violence, the reckless and inconsiderate continue to brave the danger with a positive safeguard within their reach.

Every day, however, the number of these martyrs to their own want of forecast diminishes. Each succeeding season demonstrates more clearly the inestimable value of the Bitters, both as an antidote for the causes of disease, and a specific for its consequences. The miasma which generates periodic disorders, rheumatism, liver complaint, irregularity of the bowels and other physical disturbances, produces no effect whatever upon systems toned, strengthened and regulated by this powerful vegetable medicine, and dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, intermittent and remittent fevers, billiousness, and in fact nearly all the maladies which the Bitters, if taken in time, would prevent, are cured by the persevering use of the great remedy.

The genuine Bitters sold in bottles only, and never by the barrel, keg or gallon, as is represented by [illegible] unprincipled dealers.

TARDREW & CO., 21 Park Row,

FOR $3 A YEAR.

DEVOTED to the material interests of the Southern States, and laboring for the development of all their wonderful resources, by encouraging immigration and giving full and reliable information concerning every part of the South.

THE SOUTH

has met the cordial approval and support of all the Southern States Governments, Immigration Bureaus, Agricultural Societies and leading citizens generally. It gives information of the Railroads, Manufactures, Colleges, Societies, Cities, Commerce, Agriculture, Finances, News, Markets, Minerals, Trade—in fact everything—all over the South.

Thousands of copies are every week distributed through this country, North and South, and in Europe.

To make it especially valuable to every business man and household in the South we have departments each week giving full reviews of the markets and quotations of stocks and produce, and also matters of interest to every housekeeper.

Every Southern man should give it his support. Every other man that wants to know anything about the South would find it well worth the subscription price.

It is an unsurpassed medium for advertising all descriptions of Southern property for sale or exchange, or for inviting labor and capital in any desired channel.

Subscribe for it at once, and induce as many more as you can to do so.

UNITED STATES HOTEL,

Cor Fulton, Water and Pearl Sts,

NEW YORK.

THIS well known, favorite hotel, has recently been renovated, remodeled and varnished [illegible] and elegantly throughout. It is kept on the European plan, and has ample accommodations for our hundred guests.

The location is more accessible to all parts of New York and Brooklyn than any other house in the city. The Broadway Stages pass the hotel every three minutes, besides various lines of Street Cars, one of which intersects every other route in New York.

It being but two blocks from Fulton Ferry, makes it convenient for those wishing to visit the "City of Churches," as from this ferry diverges all the principal railroad routes in the city of Brooklyn.

Ruptured

Ruptured persons of Atlanta and vicinity, are respectfully notified that [illegible] ants have published the principal part of the following circular, [illegible] by Dr. Sherman, when he opened his office in New York, [illegible] cular now forms the first page in his book on rupture. They have left out his name and substituted their own. Their object is to mislead the public by this deception. How far such men can be trusted with their peculative abilities and assumed skill, the reader may judge.

RADICAL CUR[illegible]

—OF—

ABDOMINAL HERNIA OR RUPTU[illegible]

Without Inconvenience to the Patient or Restriction in [illegible]

DR. J. A. SHERMAN, Artistic Surgeon, having devoted his time [illegible] of Abdominal Hernia, in its various forms and stages, in the Southern States [illegible] Islands, respectfully announces to the public that he has opened an office, 697 Broadway, [illegible] where he offers his services, during the business hours of each day, to those who are [illegible] with this distressing infirmity, in full confidence of his ability to afford them [illegible]

During an experience of over Twenty-five years, the greater portion of which [illegible] principal of the Rupture Curative Institute, New Orleans, Dr. S. has treated [illegible] of both sexes and of all ages, a great number of whom were restored to [illegible] enjoyment of the blessings of a sound body.

The [illegible] success [illegible] throughout the country prompted many ruptured [illegible] long and fatiguing journeys from various parts of the United States, Mexico and Cuba to the Institute, with the view of reaping the benefit and experience of Dr. S., in the selection [illegible] his popular remedies.

The happy result of this acquired art by Dr. S. has been [illegible] tion of one or the other of his sever[al] patented inventions—the result of that study [illegible] in conjunction with his popular an external application, promoting a speedy and permanent cure, without subjecting the [illegible] the sufferings and injuries resulting from an attempted cure by the rigid and [illegible] Truss.

So reliable and beneficial is this treatment that the patient, in most instances [illegible] will cease to be annoyed by a return of the rupture, [illegible] foot or on horseback, with perfect security against the dangers of strangulated [illegible]

Dr. S., in order to arrive at the absolute [illegible] of the cure [illegible] anatomical construction of the [illegible] to the mechanism of the [illegible] course of Hernia, so that he is now assured, by a large experience, that it is [illegible] of Hernia, and with the most universally acknowledged practice of ARTISTIC [illegible] with the confidence thus inspired, he will permanently relieve all cases of rupture [illegible] gard to the age of the patient or the duration of the injury, while it is wholly free from [illegible] the characteristic treatment of the malady from the earliest age to the period [illegible] vites the earnest attention of the afflicted and the closest scrutiny of the profession.

OFFICE 697 BROADWAY, CORNER 4TH STREET, [illegible]

DR. SHERMAN having received many [illegible] able to visit New York [illegible] Atlanta [illegible] of cures to those who may desire it. [illegible] will be given in the Newspapers.

MR. EDITOR—I deem it due to those afflicted with this terrible and painful [illegible] [illegible]
